

Pettinaro Residential Collects 457 lbs of Canned Goods for the Food Bank of Delaware!

10/31/11

During the month of October, Pettinaro Residential participated in the 1st Annual DelawareCAN event supporting families in need in Delaware. The Food Bank of Delaware has developed this fun competition to raise awareness regarding hunger in Delaware as a year round issue and also to help stock the shelves of the Food Bank. The Delaware business community was invited to compete by collecting cans and creating a display which will then be judged by 1st Lady Carla Markell and Senator Coon's wife Annie Coons.

The effort was led by Theresa Sciortino, Director of Concierge Services at the Towers at Greenville, a luxury mid-rise rental community in Greenville, DE. Says Sciortino, "building the display was a bit daunting at first, but once the idea came to mind, things fell into place. Once the display was built, the cans literally started rolling in!" Donations were made by residents from the Towers at Greenville as well as staff from Pettinaro's headquarters in Newport, Delaware.
